PRESENTED BY TERRENCE BULL

Terrence Bull has been a business and marketing consultant for over 30 years. He built two successful advertising agencies before launching Woogloo in 1998: a global web software and marketing company servicing clients in over 35 countries worldwide. His passion is to see people succeed.

"Since first coming to Kenya in 1994 I have seen that Kenyans are very bright, extremely talented and very hard working. However, they tend to work hard, not smart - so struggle to truly succeed. It takes only a small change in understanding to change that dynamic." - Terrence Bull
